

Wondering what DIBELS are? How about SRI? What do students who are at grade level sound like reading? What does being a fluent reader mean? What can you do at home to promote reading fluency? How well does my child read in terms of comprehension? What is a lexile, and what does it tell us about reading levels? How do I pick out appropriate books for my child? Get the answers to these questions and more when you attend our Family Literacy Night. Childcare will be provided and light refreshments will be served.
